

Are there any charges for wind power generated by small solar container communication stations

Overview

Recently, the government waived the inter-state transmission system (ISTS) charges and losses on all solar and wind projects commissioned before June 30, 2023. Does ISTS charge waiver apply to solar & wind energy projects?

The Ministry of Power (MoP) has announced an extension to the inter-state transmission system (ISTS) charges waiver on solar and wind energy projects commissioned up to June 30, 2025. The waiver applies to ISTS charges only and not losses, and the order comes into effect immediately.

Will ISTS charges be levied if a generating station uses solar power?

In addition, no ISTS charges will be levied if generating stations procure power from solar and/or wind power from the project situated at a thermal or hydropower generation facility. The waiver applies to ISTS charges only and not losses.

Should a hybrid solar and wind system be integrated with energy storage?

Integration with energy storage and smart grids There are many advantages to integrating a hybrid solar and wind system with energy storage and smart grids, such as enhanced grid management, greater penetration of renewable energy sources, and increased dependability [65, 66].

How do hybrid solar and wind systems contribute to decentralization of energy production?

By facilitating dispersed power production, hybrid solar and wind systems aid in the decentralization of energy production. This decentralized approach reduces transmission and distribution losses and enhances the resilience of the energy infrastructure.
