

Colombia Energy Storage Field Growth

Overview

How can renewables help improve Colombia's energy access?

Extensive renewables potential in the La Guajira region should help advance rural electrification and close the energy access gap. Concentrated in the northern regions, which has a 50 gigawatt (GW) offshore wind potential, renewables can also provide the clean energy needed to jump-start Colombia's hydrogen production.

Does Colombia have a geothermal future?

Colombia's geothermal development also enjoys substantial potential along the Pacific ring of fire. In 2023, work is under way on updating the National Energy Plan (PEN) towards 2050, in line with Colombia's new National Development Plan 2022-2026 (PND) and energy and climate goals towards decarbonisation.

What percentage of Colombia's energy is renewable?

In 2021, renewable energy accounted for 25% of Colombia's total energy supply and for 29% of final consumption, substantially above the IEA average of 14% and made up 75% of electricity generation (compared to the IEA average of 30%).

Does Colombia have a natural resource base?

Colombia enjoys a strong natural resource base. Renewables accounted for more than a third of total final energy consumption in 2020, thanks to the significant role of conventional hydropower and bioenergy.
