

Latest Energy Storage Policy for Rotterdam Grid in the Netherlands

Overview

Is battery energy storage a new industry in the Netherlands?

While battery energy storage system projects (BESS) in the Netherlands is still a relatively new and small industry, it becomes increasingly necessary. Growth in battery capacity began in 2021 when the total installed capacity rose by 65% compared to the previous year. This number doubled in 2022 and then tripled in 2023, reaching 621 MWh.

Is there a roadmap for energy storage in the Netherlands?

In the Netherlands, there has also historically not been a roadmap or detailed industrial strategy with supportive legislation, policy, taxation reliefs, or investment incentives for the energy storage market.

What challenges will the Dutch grid face?

Battery storage and hydrogen electrolysis facilities impose further challenges on the Dutch grid. A core element of the LAN strategy involves encouraging flexible electricity use by businesses and institutions.

What are the challenges facing the energy sector in the Netherlands?

The result is periodic capacity bottlenecks and interconnection delays. The mixed signals reported by various news outlets regarding the opportunities and unavailability of the grid capacity in the Netherlands are a testament of the challenges in the energy sector.
