

Philippines Energy Storage Power Station

Overview

How many MW of new storage capacity will be built in Philippines?

Around 1,340 MW of new storage capacity, meanwhile, still does not have a definite commercial operations date. The construction of these facilities is expected to augment the country's power supply amid growing energy demand. Under the Philippine energy scenario, peak demand is seen growing by 5.3 percent annually until 2028.

What is the future of energy storage in the Philippines?

Under the Philippine energy scenario, peak demand is seen growing by 5.3 percent annually until 2028. Energy storage is stepping into the spotlight of the country's green transition, with more companies making bold investments to unlock its game-changing potential.

How much battery storage capacity will the Philippines have?

As the Philippines gears up for the entry of more renewables into the grid, the government anticipates close to 2,000 MW of battery storage capacity to complement them. According to DOE data as of end-March, ESS projects with a combined capacity of 594 MW are committed to come online over the next three years.

Why should the Philippines invest in energy storage?

Bolstering decarbonization goals: The Philippines is a signatory to the Paris agreement and is committed to reducing greenhouse gas emissions. Energy storage facilitates the integration of renewable energy, supporting the transition to a cleaner energy mix.
