

Reykjavik Mobile Communications Small Base Station Company

Overview

What is a communication base station?

Communication base stations are an essential element in providing a stable communication environment for mobile communication devices such as mobile phones and smartphones. The installation of 5G base stations and compact base stations (small cells) in areas where signals are congested is presently proceeding apace.

What is a mobile base station?

A mobile base station, also called a base transceiver station (BTS), is a fixed radio transceiver in any mobile communication network or wide area network (WAN). The base station connects mobile devices to the network and routes them to other terminals in the network or to the core network of a mobile operator. Read more Explore Mobile base.

Does Reykjavik have 2G & 3G?

2G is on 900 and 1800 MHz and 3G on 900 and mostly 2100 MHz. 4G/LTE has started on all three providers on 800 (B20) and on 1800 MHz (B3) in the Reykjavik area. It's available on all providers for prepaid without a surcharge. The island has a very good coverage on 2G and 3G given its topography and low population.

Which telco has the best coverage in Iceland?

Síminn is the market leader with the best coverage, followed by Sýn (still good) and Nova in 3rd place (mainly in the southwest). Síminn (aka Landssíminn) is the old state telco which still has the best coverage and speeds throughout the country and is market leader in Iceland at slightly higher rates.
