

Tuvalu Solar Electricity System

Overview

How much energy does Tuvalu use a year?

Like many Small Island Developing States (SIDS), Tuvalu has been heavily reliant on imported fuel for its diesel-based power generation system. Through this new FSPV system 174.2 megawatts per hour of electricity will be generated each year, meeting two percent of Funafuti's annual energy demand.

Does Tuvalu have a solar system?

The solar system accounted for 5 percent of peak electricity demand in Funafuti (Tuvalu's capital) and 3 percent of Tuvalu's annual household electricity consumption. It contributed to powering Tuvalu's households, healthcare facilities, small and medium enterprises, and other local development infrastructure.

Why does Tuvalu need a solar project?

This solar project echoed Tuvalu's action during COP15 and sent a symbolic message about the importance and necessity of global and concerted actions worldwide to promote renewable energy and mitigate climate change impacts to save threatened countries. However, the majority of Tuvalu's energy sources are imported fossil fuels.

What is Tuvalu's energy supply?

In 2021, fossil fuels accounted for 96 percent of Tuvalu's total energy supply, while solar and other renewable energy sources accounted for 4 percent. Tuvalu's economy is therefore highly vulnerable to fuel prices' volatility, which is why it is critical to find alternative sources of energy for the country's electricity supply.
