If you have important electronics that have to keep running when the power's out, you'll need an uninterruptible power supply (UPS). Many smart devices have built-in battery packs, with modern laptops packing enough cells to last a whole day.

How does an uninterruptible power supply work?

The uninterruptible power supplies have e.g. an adjustable maximum buffer time to protect the battery and the unit protects the battery from going into a deep discharge. Draining the battery all the way down can damage it in a very short period of time, especially if this occurs multiple times.
