

Western Europe Container Battery Energy Storage

Overview

How can European policymakers help the battery storage sector?

Recommendations How can European policymakers help the battery storage sector? Battery storage systems are essential for strengthening the EU's energy security and competitiveness by enhancing flexibility, providing ancillary services to secure the grid, maximising the use of renewable energy, and effectively dealing with energy price volatility.

What is the European energy storage inventory?

A new interactive platform delivers real-time clean energy storage insights as Europe shifts toward sustainable energy sources. Energy storage helps to balance supply and demand. The European Energy Storage Inventory is the first of its kind at European level to show all forms of clean energy storage solutions.

How big is the battery storage capacity in Europe?

The operating battery storage capacity reached 49.1 GWh at the end of 2024. Over the past 4 years, the enlargement of Europe's BESS fleet has intensified, achieving a CAGR of nearly 100%, whereas from 2018-2021, the average annual increase remained below 50%. Thanks to this upswing during the last 4 years, the battery storage capacity in Europe is.

How much battery storage capacity will Europe have in 2023?

According to the latest analysis from SolarPower Europe, Europe added 17.2 GWh of new battery energy storage capacity in 2023, a 94% increase over the previous year, marking the third consecutive year of the market roughly doubling. This brought the total installed battery storage fleet to around 36 GWh by the end of the year.
